

WRIGHT TESTIMONY DEVELOPS CLASH

House Committee to Decide on Extent of Probe Into "Outside Matters."

The extent to which the McCoy subcommittee, investigating the Wright impeachment charges, will go into "outside matters" that may have an indirect bearing on the Wright case, is to be threshed out when the hearings resumed next week. The first disagreement among committee members regarding procedure came late yesterday when Congressman Jack Beall raised the point that he would oppose the introduction of irrelevant testimony. The Wright committee held no session today, but will resume Monday morning.

Congressman Beall's objection came when Chairman McCoy, examining Attorney Randall Mackey, sought information regarding the complaint filed in the Police Court against William E. Ambrose by one Elisha Gordon, who charged that he had paid a fine to Attorney Ambrose, and Gordon, in return, had not paid it for him. Gordon, the committee had previously had testimony on this point. During the hearing, Beall had been devoting himself to Mr. Ambrose's alleged shortage of about $14,000 in the building and about $10,000 in the building, which also figured in the hearings.

Asks the Purpose.
Congressman Beall asked the purpose of going into the Elisha Gordon charge. "I am not an apologist for Mr. Ambrose," said Mr. Beall. "It has been disclosed here that he is short in his accounts. That might have some bearing on this investigation, but I cannot see what bearing a matter such as this Elisha Gordon case can have on what has been introduced to us—investigation of charges against Justice Wright."

Of course, as citizens, we are interested in the enforcement of criminal laws but it is not our function to look after the enforcement of criminal law in the District, or to take part in Ambrose's prosecution or do anything that has the appearance of persecuting him. Mr. Beall added he was willing to go into any matters relating to the Wright case and asked Mr. McCoy what he expected to show by this line of testimony. Mr. McCoy said he would prefer to tell Mr. Beall personally and not announce plans in advance.

Congressman Nelson interposed that he, too, is willing to go into every phase of the case, but that the committee should be as brief as possible and not go into side issues. Finally Mr. McCoy said:

"It seems remarkable to me that Mr. Ambrose could have done the things which seem to me to be in the line of what many people and gotten away with it unless there was influence of some kind. That is the general proposition. If we can connect Justice Wright up with it, then all right; if not, all right."

Reasons For Action.
Here is a man who is a defaulter. It is called to the attention of the District Attorney. Why was nothing done about it? Mr. Cooper, who was charged against him which was a charge of influence? Mr. Mackey, the witness, has said that it would have been impossible for Mr. Cooper to prepare his defense on the libel charge within the time it was proposed to send the case to trial. He also testified that Justice Wright wanted the case tried before Justice Gould.

"Why can the District Attorney move fast in the Cooper case and not in the Ambrose matter? Requested to move in the Ambrose matter, he did not even reply to Mr. Mackey's letter until the day the Ambrose matter was brought out before this committee."

"The committee is entitled to know about this. This conclusion, Chairman McCoy, 'If it comes anywhere near Justice Wright, let us end it; if not, let us exonerate Justice Wright. People come to committee members and say that Ambrose is able to escape punishment because of Justice Wright's influence. Why do they say that and all attention is being drawn to these inferences? Why? That is what I am trying to find out."

Mackey's Testimony.
Attorney Randall Mackey, after this interchange of the committee members, was allowed to proceed. He told of his inclination to demand an accounting several weeks ago of the Ambrose receivership of the Georgetown Building Association case. Mr. Mackey said he represented claims of more than $10,000 and knew Ambrose to be short.

"I wanted to see Ambrose prosecuted, but he was not. This was the greatest to my mind that powerful influences were at work," said Mr. Mackey.

Mr. Mackey said that Attorney Eastby, having asked him not to do anything against Ambrose, that his friends were trying to raise money to get him out of trouble. A similar statement, he said, was made by Mr. Quinn, who read a letter he had sent Mr. Darlington, giving the names of attorneys who had subscribed to the Ambrose fund.

Mr. Mackey said he decided to wait under the circumstances. He told of going to the Police Court about this and finding the Elisha Gordon complaint against Ambrose.

"I found the complaint was made on April 1 against Ambrose, but the name of Ambrose was left out. I said it was a remarkable performance to give out the name of the man accused of embezzling money. The court clerk said it was a mistake, and the name of Ambrose was inserted. I asked Mr. Quinn to let me see the warrant which was issued. It was not in the case where it should have been. After some trouble, it was found in another room. I asked given why it had been held up, and he also because of a letter District Attorney Wilson, however, he said, would not file the prosecution, but directed that it be held there to await developments."

Made a Complaint.
Mr. Mackey then told of finally coming to the District Attorney, by letter, on May 29, that Ambrose was reported short in his building association accounts. He suggested an investigation by the District Attorney, he said, and received a letter the same day acknowledging his complaint and advising him that the District Attorney would see him if he had any facts to present.

"Upon the presentation of the facts to the case to me, wrote the District Attorney, 'I will immediately cause such investigation to be made as the facts warrant, and with this object in view.'" view, we carefully consider such evidence as you may have to lay before me. Mr. Mackey said he did not reply to this letter, as he thought the District Attorney could bring influence to make an investigation, whereas he, Mackey, did not have the means or power. The District Attorney, he said, had suggested that Mr. Mackey come to see him on any afternoon of the following week except Monday. Mr. Mackey said that, having told the District Attorney of the shortage, he did not see why he, Mackey, should assume the role of co-investigator.

Attorney Mackey said on the afternoon of June 5, at 2:15 o'clock, he received another letter from Mr. Wilson in which Mr. Wilson said he was still waiting for Mackey to call on him. "If you will send me the names of the witnesses by whom the facts relating to the alleged shortage can be established, I will issue subpoenas," wrote District Attorney Wilson.

Mr. Mackey said he submitted names including those of Mr. Cooper, Mr. Peyser, George E. Slaybaugh, W. H. Zapp, and Thomas J. De Launhardt, as being able to throw light on the shortage. I also told him he could find out from the banks that Ambrose had no recovery funds on deposit in Washington.

Stayed Hand to Avert Suicide.
"Do you know if Mr. Wilson has acted?" "I understand that he has sent for some of the witnesses mentioned in my letter. I want to say in reference to Mr. Wilson's letter, that I was told by Mr. De Launhardt that he had to sit up with Ambrose one whole night, and that Ambrose threatened to kill himself if I asked for the rule. I felt that if he would commit suicide, it would have been a murder on my hands, and his wife and children would suffer because of my action in asking for the rule. A friend of mine told me later that Ambrose had exhibited a bottle of poison, and said that he was going to drink that as soon as I asked for the rule."

"You said a few minutes ago that you felt that prosecution of Ambrose was being prevented by an all-powerful hand. Just what did you mean by that?" asked Mr. Nelson.

"I thought there were very strong influences brought to bear to prevent his prosecution. Friends of Mr. Ambrose and friends of Justice Wright, I believed, were bringing influence to bear to prevent action against him."

"You say that this has been generally known?" "Yes, for a month or so. I have known that two committees of the bar have been in their power to investigate charges against any attorney, and they have not acted. I am not a lawyer, but I am a fair man, and I think the committee should be peremptorily discharged."

Heard of "Influences."
"As a member of this committee, I am interested to know where this power is lodged to influence him out just what influence has been brought to bear to save Ambrose."

"I cannot tell you positively. My opinion, however, is that Mr. Ambrose's friendship for Justice Wright and Justice Wright's friendship for Ambrose had had something to do with the favorable action in Ambrose's behalf."

"Is there a fear among the attorneys that if they act against Ambrose they would court the displeasure of Justice Wright?" "I cannot say that exactly. I would say that attorneys do not desire to get themselves in places where they would be at a disadvantage."

"May it not be a fellow-feeling among the members of the bar for one of their number?" "I never saw that feeling exhibited in any other case but this."

"Do you want this committee to understand that Justice Wright yields some influence, perhaps unconsciously, and without his knowledge?" "I am of that opinion."

"Is this opinion held generally by the bar?" "I believe so. With those I have talked to I can say yes. I can say that there have been other attorneys who have embezzled and they have been convicted, and one was sent to the penitentiary for four years by Justice Wright."

G. U. ALUMNI FETES TO BEGIN TONIGHT

Celebration of 125th Anniversary Will Commence With Banquet at Ryan Hall.

The celebration of the 125th anniversary of the founding of Georgetown University will be inaugurated tonight when alumni and former students will gather at a banquet to be given by the Rev. A. J. Donlon, S. J., president of the university. The banquet will be held in Ryan Hall and Chief Justice White, of the United States Supreme Court, and Governor Glynn, of New York, will be among the speakers.

The celebration which will cover a period of three days will conclude with a joint commencement of the four branches of the university next Tuesday. Georgetown was founded in 1789 by John Carroll, first archbishop of Baltimore and cardinal of Baltimore. Its centenary was celebrated in 1889 in the presence of Cardinal Gibbons and President Cleveland. Father Donlon, the first alumnus to become president of the university, has made every effort to have this celebration eclipse the centennial of 1889. President Wilson has been invited to attend as have also a number of men prominent in church and state.

To Confer Many Degrees.
Honorary degrees for signal achievement in diplomacy, politics and science will be conferred at the celebration. The degree of doctor of laws will be awarded to Senator Don Juan Riano y Gayanosa, Spanish ambassador to the United States; Governor Glynn, Thomas E. Ewing, Commissioner of Patents; Dr. Joseph T. Johnson and Dr. Frank Baker, of Washington; J. Percy Keast, of Philadelphia, and Eugene Fox, of Arizona. Mr. Ives received his degree of master of arts at the centenary celebration in church and state.

Thomas Walsh, of Brooklyn, will receive the degree of doctor of letters. The impediments of the army, consisting of suitscases filled with flimsy creations of summer frocks, literature, votes for women banners, buttons and the official organ of the cause will be hauled by a mule and the route of the pilgrimage will carry the invaders into Garrett and Allegheny counties.

Local supporters were at the Union Station to cheer the "army" as it left on the 1:25 train for Cumberland. "Colonel" Trax is organizer for the new Government League of Maryland.

When Miss Brennan was asked if she intended to carry a knapsack she replied in great scorn: "No, I am taking this suitcase which I don't expect to carry myself, but which I must have with me."

While she gave out this information, she was pounding into an already overflowing suitcase, and in the meantime, creating, not particularly suggestive of a march.

An army expects to leave Cumberland today, and by easy marches of six miles a day, cover McHenry, Grantsville, Ebtow, Accident, Oxon Hill, and other mountains within ten days, unless unforeseen obstacles or tired feet harass.

The purpose of the expedition is purely educational. Miss Brennan expects to make three speeches a day. The Congressional Union banner was carried out of the Union Station by the departing troop at 1:25 o'clock.

Congressman Brockson to Speak at Park Row M. E.
The Rev. H. L. Elderidge, president of Westminster Theological Seminary, Westminster, Md., will be the speaker at Park Row Methodist Protestant Church, Park row, near Eleventh street northwest, at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

In the afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a platform meeting will be held. Congressman Franklin Brockton, of Delaware, the Rev. Louis Randall, pastor of Rhode Island Avenue M. P. Church, and other distinguished clergymen and laymen will participate in the exercises.

At the 7:45 o'clock services in the evening, the Rev. W. A. Melvin, pastor of First M. P. Church, and President of the M. P. Church Extension Society of the District of Columbia, will be the speakers.

Washington Men Elected.
At the annual convention of the National Association of Plume Merchants, held in New York this week Percy S. Foster and Carl A. Droop were re-elected secretary and treasurer, respectively. They were among the founders of the organization.

M'ADOO SAYS MANY DODGE INCOME TAX

Attributes Apparent Deficit in Revenues to Evasion of the New Law.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, in a statement setting forth the failure of the income tax collections to come up to the amount estimated, declares that many liable to the tax have failed to make returns, and that active steps will be taken to force collections from these sources.

Offsetting the failure of the income tax to come up to expectations, Secretary McAdoo says, is an increase of customs receipts over estimates. The net result for the year will be a surplus of $20,000,000, which will be absorbed by $27,000,000 Panama canal payments, leaving a $7,000,000 deficit.

When the tariff bill was passed it was estimated the receipts from income tax collections during the ten months of the current fiscal year would be $5,000,000. The assessments to date are only $3,750,000, or $2,250,000 less than the estimate. The corporation tax assessments collections are between $1,000,000 and $4,000,000, about $2,000,000 above estimates.

Another big offsetting feature is the excess of customs receipts over estimates. The receipts to date are $25,000,000, or $4,000,000 over the estimate and Secretary McAdoo expects them to reach $29,000,000, or $2,000,000 over the estimate.

Citizens of Somerset Win a Partial Victory
The citizens of Somerset, Md., have won a partial victory in their fight to prevent the Washington and Rockville Railway from charging an additional 6-cent fare from points in the District to Somerset. The Interstate Commerce Commission has suspended the proposed increase from June 21 to December 21.

This is an indication that the commission will not be ready to pass upon the case, which was submitted early this week, until after returning from the summer vacation. In the meantime, passengers will be permitted to ride for one street car ticket, or one cash fare, to Somerset, which is a half mile beyond the District line.

"My baby's eczema began when she was about a month old. It would start in little blisters and would run water and wherever that water would run it would make another until her whole face was covered in scars."

She was with itching and scratching until we had to hold her hands at times. The eczema itched and burned so badly that sleep was out of the question. She would cry night and day and was cross and fretful all the time. Then it got on to her head. It became a scab all over her head and face and part of her body. When I would bathe her head the hair would come out. She became bald headed."

"I bought one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. I began to bathe her in Cuticura Soap three times daily and also used the Cuticura Ointment three times daily. In a month's time her skin was smooth and rosy. She has been well ever since and has no eczema." (Signed) Mrs. Irene McNeill, June 9, 1913.

For red, rough, chapped and bleeding hands, itching, burning pains, and painful finger-ends with shapless nails, a one-night Cuticura treatment works wonders. Soak hands, or resting in hot water and Cuticura Soap. Dry, anoint with Cuticura Ointment, and wear soft bandage or old, loose gloves during the night. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere. $ Overland

The Strict Maintenance of this Price is Your Guarantee of Security

THIS list price is established and maintained all over the country. It makes no difference whether you purchase your Overland in New York or New Mexico—this price never varies.

Recently, ten friends decided to each get an Overland. They went to an Overland dealer in a body—they they would take five cars on the spot if he would give them 5% off. He refused. They argued that his neighboring competitor had already offered them 10% off on the car he represented. The Overland dealer then replied that if they would wait a few days longer the man next door would probably give them 20% off! They did wait a few days—then bought ten Overlands at the full list price.

Now—these men bought the Overlands, not because they knew denced by the following record breaking figures:

Up to date we have delivered over $42,000,000.00 worth of nineteen fourteen Overlands. Right now the public is investing over $250,000.00 a day in Overlands.

If we did not out-class (both in car value and service) those who are continually cutting their price how could we continue to get the greatest volume of business?

The Overland is a larger car; a more powerful car; a more comfortable car; a more complete car; and a more thoroughly made car than any other for the price.

And it costs you 30% less than any other similar car.

Why don't you have an Overland demonstration?
